RAILROAD HOUSE,

NEAR THE STATION,

HANOVER, YORK COUNTY PA.,

THE undersigned would respectfully inform his numerous friends and the public generally, that he has leased the Hotel in Hanover, near the Depot, formerly kept by Mr. Jeremiah Kohler, and will spare no effort to conduct it in a manner that will give general satisfaction. His table will have the best the markets can afford—his chambers are spacious and comfortable—and he has laid in for his bar a full stock of choice wines and liquors. There is stabling for horses attached to the Hotel. It will be his constant endeavor to render the fullest satisfaction to his guests, making his house as near a home to them as possible. He asks a share of the public patronage, determined as he is to deserve a large part of it. Remember the Railroad House, near the Depot, Hanover, Pa. A. P. BAUGHER.

GLOBE INN,

YORK STREET, NEAR THE DIAMOND,

GETTYSBURG, PENN'A.

THE undersigned would most respectfully inform his numerous friends and the public generally, that he has purchased that long established and well known Hotel, the "Globe Inn," in York street, Gettysburg, and will spare no effort to conduct it in a manner that will not detract from its former high reputation. His table will have the best the market can afford—his chambers are spacious and comfortable—and he has laid in for his bar a full stock of wines and liquors. There is large stabling attached to the Hotel, which will be attended by attentive ostlers. It will be his constant endeavor to render the fullest satisfaction to his guests, making his house as near a home to them as possible. He asks a share of the public's patronage, determined as he is to deserve a large part of it. Remember, the "Globe Inn" is in York street, but near the Diamond, or Public Square.

HOOFLAND'S
GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

Hoofland's German Tonic.

THE GREAT REMEDIES

FOR ALL DISEASES OF

THE LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medically termed, Extracts) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixtures of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use

Hoofland's German Bitters.

Those who have no objection to the combination of the Bitters, as stated, will use

Hoofland's German Tonic.

They are both equally good, and contain the same medical virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.

The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as it does with the Stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

CONSTIPATION, FLATULENCE, INWARD PILES, FULLNESS OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD, ACIDITY OF THE STOMACH, NAUSEA, HEART-BURN, DISGUST FOR FOOD, FULLNESS OR WEIGHT IN THE STOMACH, SOUR ERUCTATIONS, SINKING OR FLUTTERING AT THE PIT OF THE STOMACH, SWIMMING OF THE HEAD, HURRIED OR DIFFICULT BREATHING, FLUTTERING AT THE HEART, CHOKING OR SUFFOCATING SENSATIONS WHEN IN A LYING POSTURE, DIMNESS OF VISION, DOTS OR WEBS BEFORE THE SIGHT, DULL PAIN IN THE HEAD, DEFICIENCY OF PERSPIRATION, YELLOWNESS OF THE SKIN AND EYES, PAIN IN THE SIDE, BACK, CHEST, LIMBS, ETC., SUDDEN FLUSHES OF HEAT, BURNING IN THE FLESH, CONSTANT IMAGININGS OF EVIL, AND GREAT DEPRESSION OF SPIRITS.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigations and inquiries possesses true merit, is skillfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well-known remedies—

AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.
PREPARED BY DR. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Disease of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,

Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposures, Fevers, &c.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into the veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well-established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression, "never feel well." They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.

Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietors, but space will allow of the publication of but few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

Hon. Geo. W. Woodward,

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes:

Philadelphia, March 16, 1867.

"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system. Yours truly, GEO. W. WOODWARD."

Hon. James Thompson,

Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, April 28, 1866.

"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect, JAMES THOMPSON."

From Rev. Joseph H. Kennard, D. D.,

Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes. Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates St.

From Rev. E. D. Fendall,

Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philada.

I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver. Yours truly, E. D. FENDALL.

THE ORPHAN'S LAMENT.

Oh ne'er will I forget the morn,
When I was left sad and forlorn—
My mother called from earth away,
And I an orphan doomed to stay.

When sister, brother, friends, who all
Around stood gazing on the pall,
In supplication sought relief,
And bitter tears spoke their great grief.

A child—but little did I know,
Why they should grieve or sorrow so;
And why, O sister, do you weep,
While mother dear thus gently sleeps.

Oh cruel, grievous, and mistake,
That mother ne'er on earth shall wake!
No more to hear that mother's voice,
No more with her shall you rejoice.

When evening came to claim its due,
Ah, then my grief began anew—
That mother's smile, that mother's kiss—
There's naught in life to equal this.

On that sad morn began the strife—
That cruel fate—the orphan's life—
Then cast upon life's troubled sea,
This world has been a blank to me.

Oh mother! though with thee I part,
While grief and sorrow fill my heart,
By me thou ne'er wilt be forgot,
Whate'er on earth may be my lot.

Jesus called thee to realms above,
To share in His most precious love!
While I upon this cold world roam,
Aid me in gaining that true home!

Oh then my hope on earth will be,
In heaven above to meet with thee;
And there secure, ne'er more depart
To worldly strifes, that wring the heart.

Mother! farewell, a last farewell!
In my sad heart fore'er will dwell
The mem'ry of thy loving grace,
Which length of time shall ne'er efface.

A.

THE ART OF NOT HEARING.

The art of not hearing is fully as important to domestic happiness as a cultivated ear for which so much money and time are expended. There are so many things which it is painful to hear, many of which if heard will disturb the temper, and detract from contentment and happiness, that every one should be educated to take in or shut out sounds at will.

If a man falls into a violent passion and calls me all manner of names, the first word shuts my ears, and I hear no more. If, in my quiet voyage of life, I am caught in one of those domestic whirlwinds of scolding, I shut my ears, as a sailor would furl his sails, and, making all tight, scud before the gale. If a hot and restless man begins to inflame my feelings, I consider what mischief these sparks may do in the magazine below, where my temper is kept, and instantly close the door.

Does a gadding, mischief-making fellow begin to inform me what people are saying about me, down drops the portcullis of my ear, and he cannot get in any further. Some people feel very anxious to hear everything that will vex or annoy them. If it is hinted that any one has spoken ill of them, they set about searching and finding out. If all the petty things said of one by heedless or ill-natured idlers were to be brought home to him, he would be a walking pincushion, stuck full of sharp remarks. I should as soon thank a man for emptying on my bed a bushel of nettles, or setting loose a swarm of mosquitoes in my chamber, or raising a pungent dust in my house generally, as to bring upon me all the tattle of spiteful people. If you would be happy when among good men, open your ears, when among bad, shut them. It is not worth your while to hear what your servants say when they are angry; what your children say after they slam the door; what a beggar says whose petition you have rejected; what your neighbors say about your children; what your rivals say about your business or dress.

I have noticed that a well-bred woman never hears an impertinent or vulgar remark.

A kind of discreet deafness saves one from many insults, from much blame, from not a little apparent connivance in dishonourable conversation.

THE MODEL MAN.

Josh Billings says the Model Man never disturbs a hen when she is setting; never speaks cross to a lost dorg; alwaz puts a five cent shinplaster in his pocket late Saturday morning for the church platter; rizes whenever a lady enters the street kars; remembers poor unkle plainly, and asks after awl the family. If he steps on a kat's tail he is sure to do it light, and immediately asks her pardon; hooks up his wife's dress and plays hoss with the children. Never meddles with the cream in the milk pans; goes easily ov errands, and comes back in season; attends everybody's phuneral; kan alwaz tell when the moon changes; thinks just az yu do, or the other way, if you want him tew; follows everybody's advice but his owne; practices most of the virtews without knowing it; leads the life ov a shorn lamb; gits sick after awhile, and dies az soon az he can, to save making euny further truble.

BAD BOYS.—Many years ago, in a country town in Massachusetts, a teacher saw a boy come into his school whom he knew to be one of the worst boys in town. He determined, if he could, to make a good boy of him. So he spoke kindly to him, and he behaved well that day. The next morning the Prudential Committee (as he was called) came in and said: "Mr. Towne, I hear that bad fellow, Bill Marcy, has come to your school. Turn him out at once. He will spoil the rest of the boys." "No, sir;" replied the teacher, "I will leave the school if you say so, but I cannot expel a boy so long as he behaves well." So he kept him and encouraged him, confided in him, till Bill Marcy became one of the best boys in school. And afterwards, whenever Wm. L. Marcy came from Washington, he took pains to go and see his old teacher, Salem Towne, and thank him for having been the means of saving him and making him the man he was.

THE following incident was related to us by a friend in Cincinnati, a year or two ago. We do not know whether it was ever in print or not, but it is too good to run the risk of losing it. A gentleman was chiding his son for staying out late of nights, or rather early of next mornings—and said:

"Why, when I was of your age, my father would not allow me to go out of the house after dark!"

"Then you had a deuce of a father—you had," sneered the young profligate.

Whereupon the father very rashly vociferated: "I had a confounded sight better'n than you, you young rascal!"

A MATRIMONIAL engagement between Mr. Robert Lincoln, son of the late President, and a daughter of ex-Senator Harris, is announced.

WONDERFUL FREAK OF NATURE.

There has been on exhibition in our borough during the last three days a most wonderful freak of nature, in the person of a double headed African girl, sixteen years of age.

We visited the exhibition, expecting to see one of the humbugs usually seen in the side show of a circus, but were surprised to find that the person on exhibition actually had two heads, four shoulders, four arms and four legs, all of which are regular and as fully developed as is usual on a healthy, plump girl of sixteen. The spinal column runs into one below the shoulder blades and forms but one body, making this one of the greatest living natural curiosities in the world. Two intellects, two tastes, and in fact two persons, are represented above the spinal connection, as they talk with different persons at the same time and on different subjects, and eat different kinds of food. Below the connection, the sense of feeling is common, as was shown by actual experiments made by the audience. The sight is nothing but two pretty good-looking negro girls standing apparently with their backs together, but such a wonderful freak of nature may not occur again in thousands of years.—Columbia Herald.

STILL ON THE RAMPAGE.

The Norristown Independent says: The big elephant Romeo, wintering, with the rest of the menagerie, at Hatboro', by whom his keeper, Miller, was recently killed, is still on the rampage. He is secured in the basement of his deceased keeper's barn, in a pen made of strong timbers. Having now killed three men, and is still proving vicious, no one enters his cage, and he misses the grooming and attentions that had become to him almost an indispensable luxury. He cost his owner forty thousand dollars, a sum altogether too great to be lost. To shoot forty thousand dollars wouldn't be a piece of sport. The elephant Romeo nearly killed a camel some time ago that cost ten thousand dollars, and would dearly like to kill two baby elephants, for which he seems to entertain an inveterate hatred, that are confined in the vicinity of his own quarters. Some of the residents in the vicinity are nervous on the matter, fearing he may escape from his confinement. Of that, however, we are assured, there need be no apprehension.

NEGROES, ETC.—The phrase "colored people," sometimes used in the Democratic press, has no meaning in it. We are all "colored people." Caucasian, Mongolian, etc., as well as African. We, Caucasians, are blondes, brunettes, etc. All "colored people," some light, as the Saxons, some dark, as the Spaniards with Moorish blood in his veins. Negroes are no more "colored people" than we whites are. But a "negro" is a negro and nothing but a negro, and a negro man differs more from a white man than a white man from a white woman. The negro has not any hair on his head—only wool; no brain, no head, nor mouth nor chin like a white man's; no shoulders, legs nor feet, nor heels, nor shins, like white men's—and in other parts of his anatomy, not fit for newspaper discussion, he differs in all respects from a white man. Thus, the negro is a negro—but ever respectfully to be spoken of as a negro—admirable in his sphere of life, for which God made him, to be the servant of the white man, but odious and accursed, when, as in the South, he rides over the white man as his master.—N. Y. Evening Express.

MISUNDERSTOOD THE TEXT.—A worthy deacon hired a journeyman farmer from a neighboring town for the summer, and induced him—although he was unaccustomed to church-going—to accompany the family to church, on the first Sabbath of his stay. Upon their return to the deacon's house, he asked his hired man how he liked the preaching. He replied:

"I don't like to hear any minister preach politics."

"I am very sure you heard no politics to-day," said the deacon.

"I am as sure that I did," said the man.

"Mention the passage," said the deacon.

"I will. He said, 'If the Democrats scarcely are saved, where will the Republicans appear?'"

"Ah," said the deacon, "you mistake. These were the words—'If the righteous scarcely are saved, how will the ungodly and wicked appear?'"

"O, yes," said the man, "he might have used those words, but I knew deuced well what he meant!"

AN INDIAN PRACTICAL JOKE.—Some of the Saganaw Indians are intense wags in their way. One of them, having given a trader some annoyance, was told that in case he was seen again with a bottle, it would be taken from him and thrown into the fire. A few days after, the Indian appeared with a pint flask in his blanket, as usual; but the trader was as good as his word, and demanded the bottle, which the Indian gave up and started for the door. The trader threw the flask into the stove, and out came the windows and the trader following close behind. The next time that man burns an Indian's whiskey bottle he will examine it to see if its contents are whiskey or gunpowder.

THE joke practical does not always end as harmlessly as in the case of Nathaniel Appleton, who found, on riding up to the house of his beloved, that his rival's horse was hitched to the gate. Unhitching him and giving him a smart stroke with his rawhide, he walked in and inquired whose horse that could be cantering down the street. It need not be said that he found the coast clear at once, and took good pains to keep it so.

A HARDENED criminal, convicted of murder, when asked if he knew aught why sentence of death should not be pronounced against him, replied that a man ought only to be punished according to what his will and intention had been, and declared that he had only intended to murder his victim in the second degree, and hence did not merit capital punishment.

IF a lady puts on her stockings wrong side outward, it is a sign of good luck—if she does it unintentionally. If she does it on purpose, it is a sign the other side of the stockings is not as white as snow.

THE New York Sun is of the opinion Mayor J. T. Hoffman, of that city, will be the Democratic candidate for President.

DON PIATT ON THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

Gen. Don Piatt, a prominent and well known Radical politician of Ohio, has been giving Horace Greeley some information in regard to the result of the recent election in the Eighth Congressional District of that State. He informs the philosopher of the Tribune, that Gen. Beatty did plant himself squarely on the Pendleton greenback platform, and that on any other he would have been disastrously beaten. But there is a paragraph in the General's letter referring to Vallandigham and the Democratic party, which we consider worth copying entire. Gen. Don says with emphasis:

Mr Vallandingham counted confidently on his popularity with the masses of the Democratic party, and found himself mistaken when he made the trial. At the 8th of January Convention he was voted out, suffering a disastrous defeat, where the voice of the Democratic people had full away and force. And in his blind egotism, he has lost sight of the true nature of his own party organization. The Democratic party does not breathe through the nostrils of any one man, or set of men. There is no other political body that exists so well, without leaders, as this. The late war, for example, swept their so-called leaders nearly away. It changed the current of its organs even, and we all said the Democratic party was dead. We awakened to the fact, before the war ended, that it lived, and could, as of old, make itself felt, unpleasantly, at the polls. At the great day, when the Almighty calls the people to judgment, the Democratic party will come up shouting for a "white man's Government," and avowing its solemn determination to "vote the ticket, the whole ticket, and nothing but the ticket."

It strikes us that Gen. Don Piatt has a very correct conception of the energy and vitality of the Democratic party. We have no doubt it will last as long as he says it will, and that in the last day it will come up as white as he predicts.—Lancaster Intelligencer.

THE Wellsburg, West Virginia, Times, in order to show the changes that have taken place among the people, publishes the vote of that State for Governor in 1866, and Legislature in 1867. From the figures it appears that the Radical majority, which was 6,674 in 1866, was reduced to 2,255 in 1867. This small majority proves that, although two-thirds of the voters of the State are disfranchised by military violence, the minority of the remaining one-third, by an active canvass, can carry the State for the Democrats at the coming Presidential election. It is this decided change that has induced the Radical leaders to hasten their plans for holding power by means "outside of the Constitution."

No more open confession of the infamous conduct of the party in power is needed than the bill with reference to the Supreme Court of the United States. That measure is an acknowledgment of their own established convictions that their reconstruction scheme is so palpably unconstitutional that it will be pronounced so by a court consisting chiefly of judges of their own party, unless that tribunal's power of decision shall be previously regulated, bounded in, and curbed by Radical action.

UNCONSTITUTIONAL.—In a speech at the 8th of January celebration, Attorney General Stanbury declared: "I do not hesitate to say that the whole of these Reconstruction acts of Congress, from beginning to end, first, second and third in the series, are unconstitutional and void. There are times when men must speak out. I will not attempt to school myself into reticence upon these great questions, and I could not, if I would."

DON PIATT, a leading and influential Ohio Radical, says in a recently published letter, that General Grant cannot go into the Presidency with his mouth shut, that the two hundred and seventeen thousand Ohio Republicans "would not support the angel Gabriel on such terms." He adds: "Weston can walk, and Coburn can fight, and old Billy Seward, with our government on the verge of bankruptcy, can purchase the north pole and fever-stricken islands under the torrid zone; but all this won't scull a potmeal kettle up the Niagara with a crow bar, as Weed, Raymond & Co., are trying to do."

THE N. Y. Tribune says: It is said that Governor Geary withholds the Pennsylvania appropriation from the Antietam Cemetery, because the Maryland authorities have made provision for burying the rebel dead therein. We trust that the story is not true. If we are ready to pardon the rebels who have laid down their arms, can we not forget resentment toward those who have given up their lives?

THE Democratic nominee for President will, per force of circumstances, be the poor man's friend, because that every measure advocated by the Democratic party calls for reduction of taxation in twenty-six States, and for bringing on the tax duplicate the property of ten States now in a condition of desolation, paying little or no taxes.

ALL the legislation of the men in power is aggressive, and against the public policy. The people want Christians to make laws, not Goths and Vandals to destroy the substance of the country.

THE present Congress has ceased to be just to the people of the North or generous to those of the South. It is an aching tooth in the body politic, and the sooner the people get rid of it the better for us and for posterity.

A CHAP inquired at the post-office in Erie, the other day, for a letter for "Enry Hogden." He was told there was none. "Look 'ere," he replied, a little angrily, "you've hexamined a hodd letter for my name. It don't commence with a haitch! It begins with a ho! Look in the ole that's got the ho's!"

AN Alabama editor recently made a wholesale black-mail speculation by announcing that if a bottle of champagne was sent to him he should refrain from mentioning a "certain little affair." He received seven bottles from seven persons, with seven notes requesting him to keep shady.

A KENTUCKIAN who had, after a protracted courtship, made up his mind to propose to a young lady, carried his resolution into effect. The lady with some hesitation, replied: "I am partially engaged, but mother wants to marry."

OLD THAD. DISGUSTED.

Impeachment Again a Fizzle!

Thaddeus Stevens, yesterday week, forced the Reconstruction Committee to a vote on resolutions he had prepared for the impeachment of President Johnson, "for high crimes and misdemeanors"—and came off badly whipped. He was able to muster but three votes for them—his own, Boutwell's and Farnworth's,—whilst six were cast against them, viz: Bingham's, Paine's, Beaman's, Hubbard's, Brooks's and Beck's.

It is said that he (Stevens) became very wrothy, and gave vent to his mortification and disgust by declaring to a Grant man on the Committee:

"SIR: The Republican party has been killed to-day by the action of this Committee, at the instance of General Grant and his friends. I have found that for the last two or three days the men who shouted the loudest, and threw their hats the highest, for U. S. Grant, have been using every exertion to influence against Impeachment the other members of this committee who were supposed to favor it; that Grant has been using his influence everywhere to the defeat of the scheme, and that Andrew Johnson has to thank the General that he remains undisturbed in the White House. I have been in public life for forty years, and though I do not pretend to any gift of prophecy, I have seldom been mistaken in any political predictions. I now tell you that to-day's cowardly action will cost us New York, Pennsylvania, and probably three or four other Northern States."

—Shortly after the return of Mr. Stevens to his own rooms, he was called on by Mr. Stillson, correspondent of the New York World. The "old commoner" expressed himself quite willing to have all he said published. He admitted that as between the President and Grant "the President certainly has the weight of the evidence on his side; but Johnson being right or Grant being wrong, it makes no difference." What he wanted was, to have the President impeached. The correspondent asked him whether he was disappointed with the vote by the committee. "Not a bit, sir," Stevens replied; "I know all the cowards in this Congress. Long experience has enabled me to black mark every one of them, damn them!"

The correspondent again asked, "What, then, is at last your opinion on the question whether Mr. Johnson will ever be impeached?"

"Sir," said Mr. Stevens, with a bitter smile, "I shall never bring up this question of impeachment again. I am not going to dally with that or any other committee in regard to it any longer."

At this moment a secretary entered the chamber, and the correspondent took his leave.

The real friends of the country will be glad to hear that the old mischief-maker has resolved not to bring up this disturbing question again.

THE McCARDLE CASE.

On Monday, Chief Justice Chase, in behalf of the Supreme Court, declined to dismiss the McCardle case. The opinion is elaborate, and cites many authorities. It states there is ample law to take hold of the case, and the Court will therefore hear argument upon it on the first Monday in March.

The decision causes much commotion in Radical circles at Washington. The leaders of that party know that their "reconstruction" measures will not stand the constitutional test, and hence their alarm at this preliminary step in the Supreme Court. Mr. Trumbull has introduced a bill in the Senate to prevent the Courts from deciding on the "reconstruction" acts at all, and thus leave sole power in the hands of Congress.—Whether the bill will pass time must determine, but if it does it will be one of the most bold and shameless outrages ever attempted by a legislative body.

THE President has ordered a new military district, with headquarters at Washington, and named Gen. Sherman to take command of it. The General, it is said, declines, from an indisposition to be located at Washington. The President also proposes to confer on Gen. Sherman the rank of General by brevet—but it is said that the Radicals in the Senate will not confirm it.

GENERAL HOWARD, the chief of the Freedmen's Bureau, has come out openly and decidedly in favor of amalgamation. The matter has caused no little excitement among the leaders of the Republican party in Washington.—While they cannot and do not deny that the tendency of all they are doing is to break down every political and social barrier between the two races, they regard General Howard's open advocacy of amalgamation as "a little ahead of time." They are trying to keep the matter quiet for the present, fearing the effect it may have on the coming elections.

THE Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial (Rad.) relates the following incident connected with the surrender of Grant to Stanton:

> The President said, in a conversation on Saturday, that he would give $10,000 out of his own pocket if the American people could have seen General Grant at the Cabinet meeting on Friday, while questions were being put to him about his action in the Stanton matter. He never saw a man look meaner or more humiliated. "He is not a big man," said Johnson, "either mentally, morally, or physically; but before he had answered the questions we put to him, he seemed to have shrivelled up into no bigger than my fist."

RADICAL EXTRAVAGANCE.—In 1860 the House at Harrisburg employed 53 officers, and paid them $21,409. The same House, in 1868, employs 98 officers, and will pay them $81,290. So says a Harrisburg correspondent of the Reading Daily Times, a neutral paper. Just think of it—one hundred members and ninety-eight officers! But of such is Radical extravagance made.

THE Baltimore City Councils have passed an ordinance authorizing the Mayor to vote the stock held by the city in the Western Maryland Railroad.—This will no doubt result in kicking Chapman out of the Presidency of the road, as it ought to—and we hope will reinstate Capt. Irwin, who filled the position so faithfully and efficiently previous to its occupancy by Chapman.

WHICH WILL YOU CHOOSE?—On the one side is the Constitution, with a Government of and for WHITE MEN. On the other side is Usurpation, Puritan Fanaticism, Public Plunder, and NEGRO EQUALITY. There is the whole thing in its strongest and sharpest definitions, and as between these two opposing forces there is no possible room for a third party. There can be but two combatants in the coming contest—the Democracy on the one hand and Radicalism on the other. One or the other must triumph. It is for the people to choose between them.—Reading Gazette.

A WHITE MAN'S GOVERNMENT!

GRANT BADLY DAMAGED.

The Correspondence between President Johnson and General Grant in regard to the Stanton Affair.

The President Corroborated by the Cabinet.

The correspondence between President Johnson and General Grant, on the subject of the latter surrendering the War Department to Stanton, has attracted very general attention. It is known that when General Grant was appointed Secretary of War ad interim, he promised that if the Senate did not sustain the suspension, he would surrender the office to the President in time for him to appoint a successor to Stanton, so that the latter would be compelled to ask the courts to reinstate him. Grant did not keep this promise, but when Stanton appeared at the office he walked out and left him in possession. The correspondence growing out of this ungentlemanly conduct on Grant's part, is too lengthy for our columns, but we subjoin a sufficient portion to give our readers a correct idea of its purport.

Under date of January 25th, Grant says to the President:

> On Tuesday, the day Mr. Stanton re-entered the office of the Secretary of War, Gen. Comstock, who had carried my official letter, announcing that, with Mr. Stanton's reinstatement by the Senate, I had ceased to be Secretary of War ad interim, and who saw the President open and read the communication, brought back to me from the President a message that he wanted to see me that day at the Cabinet meeting, after I had made known the fact that I was no longer Secretary of War ad interim. At this meeting, after opening it as though I were a member of his Cabinet, when reminded of the notification already given him that I was no longer Secretary of War ad interim, the President gave a version of the conversation alluded to already. In this statement it was asserted that in both conversations I had agreed to hold on to the office of Secretary of War until displaced by the courts, or resign so as to place the President where he would have been had I never accepted the office. After hearing the President through, I stated our conversations substantially as given in this letter. I will add that my conversation before the Cabinet embraced other matter not pertinent here, and is, therefore, left out. I in nowise admitted the correctness of the President's statement of our conversation, though to soften the evident contradiction my statement gave, I said alluding to our first conversation on the subject, the President might have understood me the way he said, namely, that I had promised to resign if I did not resist the reinstatement. I made no such promise.

This contains a flat denial, by Grant, that he ever made any such promise. In reply to this letter, under date of January 31st, the President positively asserts the promise made, and in forcible terms. He says:

> My recollection of what then transpired is diametrically the reverse of your narration. In the presence of the Cabinet I asked you, first, if, in a conversation which took place shortly after your appointment as Secretary of War ad interim, you did not agree either to remain at the head of the War Department and abide any judicial proceedings that might follow the non-concurrence by the Senate in Mr. Stanton's suspension; or should you wish, not to become involved in such a controversy, to put me in the same position with respect to the office as I occupied previous to your appointment, by returning it to me in time to anticipate such action by the Senate? This you admit. Second, I then asked you if, at the conference on the preceding Saturday I had not, to avoid misunderstanding, requested you to state what you intended to do; and further, if in reply to that inquiry you had not referred to our former conversations, saying that from them I understood your position, and that your action would be consistent with the understanding which had been reached. To these questions you also replied in the affirmative.—Third, I next asked if, at the conclusion of our interview on Saturday, it was not understood that we were to have another conference on Monday, before final action by the Senate on the case of Mr. Stanton. You replied that such was the understanding, but that you did not suppose that the Senate would act so soon. This account of what passed between us at the Cabinet meeting on the 14th instant widely differs from that contained in your communication, for it shows that instead of having "stated our conversations as given in the letter," which has made this reply necessary, you admitted that my recital of them was entirely accurate. Sincerely anxious, however, to be correct in my statements, I have to-day read this narration of what occurred on the 14th instant to the members of the Cabinet who were then present. They, without exception, agree in its accuracy.

If the case rested here the question would be evenly balanced, but the President is sustained by five disinterested witnesses—for the members of the Cabinet, who were present at the interview, all agree with him in their recollection of the promise Grant made. The weight of evidence is so overwhelmingly on the side of the President, that Grant stands convicted of violating his promise and departing from the truth. His reputation for honor and veracity suffers very greatly by the conflict. The correspondence, however, damages him still further in the eyes of all honorable men, for it convicts him of duplicity and double-dealing toward the President. In another letter, Grant says:

> From our conversation and my written protest of August 1st, 1867, against the removal of Mr. Stanton, you must have known that my greatest objection to his removal was the fear that some one would be appointed in his stead who would, by opposition to the laws relating to the restoration of the Southern States to their proper relation to the government, embarrass the army in the performance of the duties especially imposed upon it by the laws; AND THAT IT WAS TO PREVENT SUCH AN APPOINTMENT THAT I ACCEPTED THE APPOINTMENT OF SECRETARY OF WAR AD INTERIM, and not for the purpose of enabling you to get rid of Mr. Stanton by my withdrawing it from him in opposition to the law, or, not doing so myself, surrender it to one who, as the statement and assumptions in your communication plainly indicate, was sought, and it was to avoid this doubt, as well as to relieve you from the personal embarrassment in which Mr. Stanton's reinstatement would place you, that I urged the appointment of Governor Cox, believing that it would be agreeable to you and also to Mr. Stanton, satisfied as I was the good of the country, and not the office, the latter desired.

From this it appears that he concealed from the President his real motive in accepting charge of the War Department. While he pretended that he did it to oblige the President, he now admits it was done to prevent him appointing a man of his own choice to the office. No doubt it was done with the full knowledge and by the advice of Stanton and his friends. In order to accommodate them, and assist to reinstate the dismissed Secretary when the time should arrive for it, he consents to play a contemptible game to deceive his superior officer. Duplicity of this kind would destroy the reputation of a business or professional man, and cannot fail to injure Grant's beyond repair. The good sense of the country likes honest, straight-forward conduct, and we believe the public will as severely condemn the absence of it in the General of the armies as in a less important personage.

The above letters were sent to Congress, under a call from the House, the Radicals supposing that Grant had the better of the President. But the President was not to be thus silenced. On the 10th of February, he addressed another letter to Grant, from which we make the following telling extract. The President says:

> You speak of my letter of the 31st ult. as a reiteration of the many and gross misrepresentations contained in certain newspaper articles, and reassert the correctness of the statements contained in your communication of the 28th ult., adding, and here I give your own words, anything in yours in reply to it to the contrary notwithstanding. Whenever a controversy upon matters of fact reaches the point to which this has been brought, further assertion or denial between the immediate parties should cease, especially where upon either side it loses the character of the respectful discussion which is required by the relation in which the parties stand to each other, and degenerates in tone and temper. In such a case, if there is nothing to rely upon but the opposing statements, conclusions must be drawn from these statements alone, and from whatever intrinsic probabilities they afford in favor of or against either of the parties. I should not shrink from this test in the controversy; but, fortunately, it is not left to this test alone. There were five Cabinet officers present at the conversation, the details of which, in my letter of the 28th ultimo, you allow yourself to say contains many and gross misrepresentations. These gentlemen heard that conversation, and have read my statement. They speak for themselves, and I leave the proof without a word of comment.
> I deem it proper, before concluding this communication, to notice some of the statements contained in your letter. You say that a performance of the promises alleged to have been made by you to the President would have involved a resistance to law and an inconsistency with the whole history of my connection with the suspension of Mr. Stanton. You then state that you had fears that the President would, on the removal of Mr. Stanton, appoint some one in his place who would embarrass the army in carrying out the Reconstruction acts, and said, "It was to prevent such an appointment that I accepted the appointment of Secretary of War ad interim, and not for the purpose of enabling you to get rid of Mr. Stanton, by my withholding it from him in opposition to law, or not doing so myself, surrendering it to one who would, as the statements and assumptions in your communication plainly indicate, was sought."
> First of all, you have admitted that, from the very beginning of what you term the whole history of your connection with Mr. Stanton's suspension, you intended to circumvent the President. It was to carry out that intent that you accepted that appointment. It was in your mind at the time of your acceptance. It was not, then, in obedience to the order of your superior, as has heretofore been supposed, that you assumed the duties of the office. You knew it was the President's purpose to prevent Mr. Stanton from resuming the office of Secretary of War, and you intended to defeat that purpose. You accepted the office, not in the interest of the President, but of Mr. Stanton.
> If this purpose, so entertained by you, had been confined to yourself; if, when accepting the office, you had done so with a mental reservation to frustrate the President, it would have been a tacit deception. In the ethics of some persons such a course is allowable, but you cannot stand even upon that questionable ground. The history of your connection with this transaction, as written by yourself, places you in a difficult predicament, and shows that you not only concealed your design from the President, but induced him to suppose that you would carry out his purpose to keep Mr. Stanton out of office by retaining it yourself after an attempted restoration by the Senate, so as to require Mr. Stanton to establish his right by judicial decision.

—The President concludes with letters addressed to him by Secretaries Welles, McCulloch, Browning and Seward, and Attorney General Randall, in reply to inquiries from him as to their recollection of the conversation with Grant. They all corroborate the President's statement. We make room for three of them, as follows:

> WASHINGTON, D. C., February 5, 1868.
> —Sir: Your note of this date was handed to me this evening. My recollection of the conversation at the Cabinet meeting on Tuesday, the 14th of January, corresponds with your statement of it in the letter of the 31st ultimo, in the published correspondence. The main points specified in that letter giving your recollection of the conversation are correctly stated. Very respectfully,
> GIDEON WELLES.
> To the President.

> TREASURY DEPARTMENT, Feb. 6th, 1868.—Sir: I have received your note of the 5th instant, calling my attention to the correspondence between yourself and General Grant, as published in the Chronicle of yesterday, especially that part of it which relates to what occurred at the Cabinet meeting on Tuesday, the 14th ult., and requesting me to state what was said in the conversation referred to. I cannot undertake to state the precise language used, but I have no hesitation in saying that your account of that conversation, as given in your letter to General Grant, under date of the 31st., substantially, and in all important particulars, accords with my recollection of it. With great respect, your obedient servant,
> H. McCULLOCH.
> To the President.

> POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 6, 1868.—Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of February 5th, calling my attention to the correspondence published in the Chronicle between the President and General Grant, and especially to that part of it which refers to the conversation between the President and General Grant at the Cabinet meeting on Tuesday, 14th of January, with a request that I state what was said in that conversation. In reply, I have the honor to state that I have read carefully the correspondence in question, and particularly the letter of the President to General Grant dated January 31, 1868. The following extract from your letter of January 29 to Gen. Grant, is, according to my recollection, a correct statement of the conversation that took place between the President and General Grant at the Cabinet meeting on January 14th last. In the presence of the Cabinet, the President asked General Grant whether, in a conversation which took place after his appointment as Secretary of War ad interim, he did not agree either to remain at the head of the War Department, and abide any judicial proceedings that might follow the non-concurrence by the Senate in Mr. Stanton's suspension, or should he wish not to become involved in such a controversy, to put the President in the same position with regard to the office as he occupied previous to General Grant's appointment, by returning it to the President in time to anticipate such action by the Senate.
> This General Grant admitted.
> The President then asked General Grant if at the conference on the preceding Saturday he had not, to avoid misunderstanding, requested General Grant to state what he intended to do; and, further, if, in reply to that inquiry, he (General Grant) had not referred to their former conversation, saying, that from them the President understood his position, and that his (General Grant's) action would be consistent with the understanding which had been reached?
> To these questions General Grant replied in the affirmative. The President asked General Grant at the conclusion of their interview on Saturday if it was not understood that they were to have another conference on Monday, before final action by the Senate in the case of Mr. Stanton? General Grant replied that such was the understanding, but that he did not suppose the Senate would act so soon; that on Monday he had been engaged in a conference with General Sherman, and was occupied with many little matters, and asked if General Sherman had not called on him that day?
> I take this mode of complying with the request contained in the President's letter to me, because my attention has been called to the subject before, when the conversation between the President and General Grant was under consideration.
> Very respectfully,
> ALEXANDER RANDALL,
> Postmaster-General.
> To the President.

This testimony certainly clinches the nail, and leaves Grant's veracity in the worst possible position. All room for doubt is swept away, and the President stands forth triumphantly sustained and vindicated. So self-evident is this that even Grant himself, in a rejoinder, entirely drops the question of veracity, and takes to wriggle out of the difficulty by taking upon another, false line of insubordination. The impartial press of the country is speaking out, and the duplicity and treachery involved are receiving due comment, to the irreparable damage of Grant. There are even rabid Radical journals which take him severely to task, as witness the following from the Philadelphia Morning Post:

> General Grant's letter will disappoint its readers. It is a reply to one of the least important parts of the President's argument—the charge of insubordination. The question in which the people are especially interested, is whether Mr. Johnson is at all correct in his statement of Grant's position while acting as Secretary of War. General Grant himself challenged Mr. Johnson to make good his word, when he accused him of many and gross misrepresentations. Mr. Johnson accepted this challenge, and undertakes to prove that General Grant did make certain promises which he afterwards violated. He brings forward his witnesses—they are five members of the Cabinet—they all sustain the President's assertions.

With such a chapter in Grant's history, will the Republican party have the hardihood to place him before the country as a candidate for the Presidency? If they do, they will outrage every sense of propriety, and meet such a rebuke at the hands of the honest and upright masses as will learn them to respect truth and fairness to their last day.

HOW ARE THE MIGHTY FALLEN!

The New York Herald, which a few months ago was foremost in advocacy of General Grant for the Presidency, thus spoke last week:

> The correspondence of General Grant with the President, relative to Stanton and the War Department, shows how the mightiest heroes and most popular men may fall when they enter into politics and suffer themselves to be influenced by politicians. A short time ago General Grant was the most popular man in the country. He had won imperishable renown on the battle-field. He was looked upon as a model of honor and frankness, and as being inherently conservative. He was looked to as the proper man for President, because it was supposed he would not go with the extreme parties. In a word, his position was a splendid one. But he fell into the hands of scheming politicians. Through their influence, doubtless, he went into the War Department to thwart the President—to watch and obstruct the Executive, as he confesses, in the matter of carrying out the reconstruction laws of Congress. This great soldier has been led into the most equivocal conduct throughout the whole of this Stanton business, from ambition and a desire to please the leaders of the dominant party in Congress, and they have used him as a catspaw for their own purposes. The fate of General Scott might have been a warning to him; but it seems that ambition blinds and perverts the most distinguished men. When we look at the position General Grant has placed himself in, even by his own showing, through this Stanton affair, it may well be said, How are the mighty fallen!

Democratic Victory—A Gain of Over Three Hundred and Fifty Votes Since October.

READING, February 15.—The Democracy of this city won a great victory yesterday. Their candidate for Auditor, Dr. Hiester M. Nagle, was elected by a majority of 336. Judge Williams' majority last October was 19. This is a Democratic gain in four months of 355 votes. The Democrats have also elected Matthias Mengel, Esq., Alderman, and Captain W. W. Diehl, Constable in the South Ward. Both branches of the City Councils are largely Democratic. The Democrats elected three out of the four Select Councilmen voted for, six out of the ten Common Council voted for, and seven out of the nine Assessors.

—The Democracy of Reading fired a grand salute over their victory on Saturday, and all were jubilant, as they had abundant reason to be.

The people are tired of turmoil, taxes, and the nigger, and this expression of popular opinion at Reading is only a foretaste of what may be expected all over the country.

MORE DEMOCRATIC TRIUMPHS.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Feb. 12.—The city election yesterday resulted in favor of the Democrats. A mayor and a majority of the aldermen are elected by the Democrats for the first time in ten years.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Feb. 12.—Our town election yesterday resulted in a Democratic majority of 70, a gain since last election of over 300. Both parties were scoring for the Presidential sweepstakes next fall, and Democrats hereabouts are bound to be in good training.

ERWIN, Steuben co., Feb. 12.—The town of Erwin has just elected A. J. Fox, Democrat, Supervisor. This town gave Fenton fifty majority in 1866; in 1867, Nelson, the Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, received 15 majority, a gain of 65 in one year in a total vote of only 387, and now Supervisor Fox is elected by 25 majority, a gain of 10 more.

The New York World says a similar change throughout the State would give the Democracy a majority of 100,000 for their Presidential candidate, and there is no reason why the change should not occur.

PRAYING A CONTINUANCE OF MILITARY DESPOTISM.

In the Senate of the United States, on Thursday last, Mr. Doolittle, of Wisconsin, presented a memorial signed by over one thousand citizens of Alabama, protesting against negro rule, and praying for a continuance of military government in the State. It sets forth many grievances, and concludes as follows:

> Continue over us, if you will do so, your own rule by the sword; send down among us honorable and upright men of your own people, of the race to which you and we belong, and ungracious, contrary to wise policy and the institutions of the country, and tyranous as it will be, no hand will be raised among us to resist by force their authority; but do not, we implore you, abdicate your own rule over us by transferring us to the blighting, brutalizing, and unnatural dominion of an alien and inferior race—a race which has never shown administrative capacity for the good government of even the tribes into which it has always been broken up in its native state, and which in all ages has itself furnished slaves for all the races of the earth.

Never in the history of the world has any more touching appeal been made to their conquerors by a subjugated people. Let the white men of the North read it and ponder over it. Here are a people of our own race, men with the proud blood of the Anglo-Saxon in their veins, men accustomed to all the rights and privileges of freemen, appealing in tones of supplication for the poor privilege of being allowed to live under the rigors of an irresponsible military despotism. They ask the continuance of what all free people have regarded as an unsupportable form of tyranny, in order that they may be saved from the still more horrible condition of negro domination. Will the people of the North prove deaf to such an appeal? Not if they have a spark of manhood and decency left. Should the Radicals in Congress dare to force through the rejected constitution, and to subject the white people of Alabama to the rule of a horde of barbarian negroes, they will earn the detestation of every man who has the spirit of a freeman in his bosom, and will richly deserve the fate of tyrants.—Lancaster Intelligencer.

Local Department.

TOWN, COUNTY AND SURROUNDING COUNTIES.

The Gettysburg Zouaves will meet for drill and parade at 1 o'clock to-morrow, in full dress. The Company will shoot for a medal.

Pension.—A bill has been read in the Legislature to grant a pension to Henry Little, of this place, a soldier in the war of 1812.

Postmaster.—W. H. Longwell, formerly of this place, has been appointed and confirmed as Postmaster at Pithole City, in this State.

Ballou's Monthly for March contains the usual amount of choice and interesting reading matter. It is one of the cheapest magazines published.

Woolen Factory.—A project has recently been started to raise a stock company to build a large woolen factory at Carlisle.

Improvement.—Samuel Herbst has put up a large Stable, 42x80 feet, in the rear of the Keystone House. We believe it is his intention to open a Livery Exchange.

In Jail.—John Cook, a "traveller," was arrested and placed in limbo, last week, charged with stealing two umbrellas from the residence of R. G. Harper, Esq. The umbrellas were recovered.

Big Premiums.—Last week the Westminster Building Association sold three shares of money at a premium of 38 per cent., and three shares at 41 per cent. The highest figure yet reached here was 28 per cent.

Lamp Explosions.—We notice in our exchanges an unusual number of coal oil lamps explosions, some resulting in horrible and fatal injuries. Too much care cannot be taken, as well to secure a pure article of oil, as in the use of it.

Sale.—Isaac Deardoff has purchased the property of Henry McDannell, near town—16 acres, with improvements—at $2,100; and ten acres adjoining, from John H. McClellan, at $1,000.

Courts.—The Senate has passed the bill—and the House will—to change the time for the Courts in this county, so as to make the November and January terms two weeks, and thus avoid special Courts.

Another Judge.—The members of the Chambersburg bar have petitioned the Legislature for another Law Judge in that district. A vast amount of business has accumulated on the dockets of the several counties.

Repealed.—The Legislature has not only repealed McConaughy's Gettysburg lottery act, but authorized the Auditor General to seize the property and assets of the defunct corporation for the benefit of the individuals who invested in it. The getting at the assets may make business for somebody—if there be assets to get at.

Explosion.—We learn that on Thursday of last week, a steam pipe attached to the steam saw mill of Miltenberger & Brady, in the South Mountain, exploded with considerable force, doing some damage. Mr. E. Perie was severely scalded by the escaping steam about the hands and face, but his injuries are not likely to prove fatal.

Burned.—On Friday night last, the building over the "water tank," two miles this side of New Oxford, on the Gettysburg railroad, was consumed by fire. It appears fire had been made in the building the evening previous in order to keep the water from freezing, but somehow became ignited to the structure, and was soon consumed.—Hanover Citizen.

Readings.—Rev. Dr. Morris, of Baltimore, at the invitation of the College Societies, will give Readings from Shakspeare and other authors, in Agricultural Hall, this evening. We predict a rare treat, and bespeak a full house. Those staying away will be apt to regret it.

Anniversary Exercises, by the Phrenakosmian Society of Pennsylvania College, will come off in Agricultural Hall, to-morrow (Saturday) evening—to consist of a number of original orations, music by the College choir, &c. Doors open at 6½, and exercises to commence at 7 o'clock. The public are cordially invited. No charge for admission, but a collection will be taken to pay hall rent. A pleasant evening's entertainment may be expected.

A Public Reception at the Orphans' Homestead, with exercises appropriate to Washington's Birthday, in which the children will participate, will be held to-morrow. Major Cleeton, of Conn., will give an account of the progress of the work for the Homestead in New England. The public are invited to be present. Tickets of admission, 25 cents each; can be procured at the stores of Messrs. Schick, Fahnestock, Buehler, and R. Horner.

Normal School.—By an advertisement in another column, it will be seen that Superintendent Sheely will open his Normal School, in this place, on the 30th of March. Such as desire to attend had better make application early, as the popularity of the institution is bound to bring in all it can accommodate in a short time. The Gettysburg Normal has been of vast benefit to those who have heretofore attended its sessions, and similar if not better results may be looked for in the future. As the Normal always adds life to the town, we are glad to announce the approach of another session.

Delegates.—W. S. Stenger, Esq., has been chosen Representative Delegate for Franklin county to the next Democratic State Convention, which will be held in the Hall of the House of Representatives at Harrisburg, on the 4th of March next. Joseph P. McDivit, Esq., of this county, is the Senatorial Delegate for Adams and Franklin, and Daniel Geiselman, Esq., Representative Delegate for Adams. The Convention will nominate candidates for Auditor General and Surveyor General, and select Delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Look Out.—According to one Prof. Delisser, a series of celestial and terrestrial phenomena is at hand. On the night of the 27th of February, in the western heavens, there will be a conjunction of the moon with Jupiter and Venus; and three nights later Jupiter will pass Venus by only twenty-three seconds of a degree. The result of these conjunctions and perturbations will be atmospheric commotion—electrical discharges, heavy gales, high tides, earthquakes, and nobody knows what besides. Moreover, the whole year will be fearful for its storms, inundations, eruptions, quakings of the earth, &c.

"Healing on its Wings," say all who have made use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and by such use been cured of coughs, colds, bronchitis, sore throat, influenza or consumption. The proprietor will always keep this standard remedy by them.

Watches Stolen.—Last night week, between 9 and 10 o'clock, the jewelry store of Messrs. Sower & McCartney, on York street, in this place, was entered during the temporary absence of the proprietors, and three silver watches, valued at $75, stolen from one of the cases. On noticing the loss next morning, Messrs. S. & McC. employed Detective Rouzer to take the case in hand and work it up if possible. Suspicion pointed to two stragglers (one pretending to be blind) in town on the previous day, and, pursuit being made, they were traced as far as Littlestown, where it was found they had disposed of the watches, and taken the train for Baltimore. Mr. Rouzer at once telegraphed the police of that city, and followed in the next train. Reaching Baltimore, he was informed that two men answering the description had arrived there, but some time previous to the reception of the despatch—and that they had inquired concerning the trains to Washington, as though they intended going there. Mr. Rouzer took this as a "blind" on their part, and set himself to work, with some assistance, to find them in Baltimore. In this he succeeded at a late hour of the night, coming upon them in one of the dens frequented by thieves. He brought them back next day, and they were committed to prison. They are said to be old offenders, one going under the name of Henry Reed alias Rue, and the other James Elliott, one hailing from Philadelphia and the other from Baltimore. Both have been in the penitentiary several times. Elliott is blind of one eye, and nearly so in the other, but he managed to read a newspaper in the cars on the way here. We are told that they do not deny the theft. The watches have all been recovered.

The South Mountain Railroad.—We learn, though not from an official source, that the Cumberland Valley Railroad and the South Mountain Iron Company have determined to build the road from here to Pine Grove Furnace as soon as practicable. We trust this will not prove a false alarm, as all previous anouncements in regard to the building of the road have been —Carlisle Volunteer.

Advertising People.—People who advertise are smarter than those who don't—better looking, too, nine in ten. Our advice to everybody except in matrimony is—to advertise. It is sure to return largely, increase your reputation as a business man, make hosts of friends, and add to the number of shrewd and sensible people in the world, of which there has never yet been an overstock.

Little Dorritt.—By Charles Dickens.—Complete in a large octavo volume, of 317 pages, with large and clear type, is published this day by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, 306 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, and is for sale by all booksellers, price Thirty-five cents a copy, uniform with "Our Mutual Friend," issued at the same price, and makes the fifteenth volume of "Petersons' Cheap Edition for the Million of Charles Dickens' Works." This edition will be complete in eighteen volumes, of which the following twelve have already been published, price Twenty-five cents each, viz:—"Sketches by 'Boz,'" "David Copperfield," "A Tale of Two Cities," "Hard Times," "Great Expectations," "Nicholas Nickleby," "Dombey and Son," "Christmas Stories," "Martin Chuzzlewit," "Pickwick Papers," "Oliver Twist," and "American Notes," and "No Thoroughfare," at ten cents, and the others will follow one a week, until this series is complete. A complete set of the eighteen volumes will be sent to any one, free of postage, on receipt of Four Dollars by the Publishers.

Of the almost innumerable number of preparations in the market for restoring gray hair to its original color, we know none of which gives so universal satisfaction as Ring's Vegetable Ambrosia. We have tried it and found it to restore the color in a truly wonderful manner—as well as to remove dandruff and all itching caused by humors of the scalp. Try it and be satisfied.

Coe's Cough Balsam—The great popular Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough and Consumption.—Both sizes—ordinary 4 oz., also mammoth family bottles—for sale by all druggists and dealers in medicines. No family should be over night without it in the house.

GENERAL McCLERNAND'S OPINION OF GRANT.

General McClernand writes the following letter to the Springfield, Illinois, Register, under date of January 6:

> I observe in the Chicago Tribune of the 4th instant, certain extracts purporting to be taken from "Badeau's Life of General Grant." Of whilom Colonel, now Lieutenant Badeau, it is enough to say, en passant, that he was unknown to me, unless I once saw him hanging around General Grant's headquarters as a questionable appendage, where he may still be an ornamental rather than useful appurtenance. Failing to gain distinction as a soldier, he seems determined to gain infamous notoriety both as a personal traducer and panegyrist. Undertaking ostensibly to write General Grant's biography, he has commenced the hopeless task of writing him into the Presidency. In this effort he has gone out of the way to assail me, and only echoes his master's malevolence. It is, rather, then, of his master, from his position a more distinguished object, that I would briefly speak. Let him publish the correspondence—the whole of the correspondence of which he complains—through his partisan amenuensis. This done, his character for candor and fair dealing will be exhibited in a better light than at present before the public, to whose judgment he appeals against a fellow soldier. Sometimes General Grant's sense of justice, but oftener his passions, have controlled his conduct toward me. Especially has this been the case since the brilliant and successful issue of the Mississippi campaign, in which the Thirteenth Army Corps, which I had the honor to command, bore such a meritorious part. In his official report of that campaign, he, either from ignorance or malice, falsifies important facts, honorable to that corps and to me, to the disparagement of both. The proof is on file in the War Department, but has never been permitted to see the light. Only recently, when my name was before the Senate for confirmation to office, he, as I understood, and no doubt truly, descended from the dignity of his station to cause my rejection, thus pursuing me in civil as well as military life. A man who receives an injury may forgive its author, but that author never forgives the person he has injured. General Grant should, in prudence, if not in justice, be more forbearing, for no public man of modern times owes so much of reputation and influence to the forbearance of others. If the veil were once lifted, and the public made acquainted with his real character, General Grant would stand very differently in public estimation than he does at present.—That time will yet come, when the wrong done me and my command will be corrected.
> Your obedient servant,
> JOHN A. McCLERNAND.

FORNEY says that President Johnson "sits in the White House by the judgment of Heaven." Well, Forney, isn't Heaven as good a judge as you are?—Prentice.

THE wife of Colonel G. S. Gibbings was killed in Galveston, Texas, on Friday evening, by jumping from a carriage while the horses were running away. The Colonel and his three little daughters escaped unhurt.

THE rebel General Longstreet was at General Grant's reception on Wednesday week.

On the 25th ult., OLLIE SARAH, infant daughter of Mr. Samuel Orner, of Menallen township.

On the 9th ult., HENRY ALLEN, infant son of Samuel and Amanda Sterner, aged 6 months and 10 days.

Communicated.

On Tuesday, Feb. 4th, after a lingering illness, of disease of the kidneys, Mr. EPHRAIM HEAGY departed this life, aged 58 years 4 months and 7 days.

Bro. Heagy was a very worthy Elder of the Reformed congregation at New Oxford; esteemed and beloved by all who knew him. He was a most excellent neighbor and a peace loving citizen; a kind and affectionate husband and a faithful and devoted christian.

His piety and christian character exerted not only a great influence for good in his own church, but in that of other denominations. All who knew him, knew him but to love him.

I never met a man in the ordinary walks of life whose christian graces had been more harmoniously developed. He was a christian after the type of the Apostle John. He was modest, yet bold in the discharge of his duty in the church, as well as in his family at home. He always manifested a warm interest in the welfare of his church and her benevolent institutions.

Bro. Heagy gave tangible evidence of his devotion to the church, his appreciation of the saving efficacy of the Gospel, and his love for the poor, by bequeathing, in his last will and testament $200 to the Reformed Church at New Oxford, $150 to the Orphans' Home at Womelsdorf, and $150 to Home Missions. In the death of this beloved brother the Reformed Church at New Oxford has lost one of her most earnest and faithful members. We deeply lament his death, yet we rejoice in the hope that our loss was his gain. Elder Heagy, after setting his own house in order, by providing well for his beloved widow, and a general distribution of his earthly goods among his esteemed friends, gently, though silently, committed his soul into the care of his heavenly Father. His funeral was largely attended and the services most solemn and impressive. The occasion was improved by a sermon of his pastor from Gen. 5: 24.

Peace be to his ashes.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Children's Lives Saved for 50 Cents.

Thousands of Children die annually of Croup. Now, mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of Dr. Tobias' Venitian Liniment in the house, you never need fear losing your little one when attacked with this complaint. It is now 20 years since I have put up my Liniment, and never heard of a child dying of Croup when my Liniment was used; but hundreds of cases of cures have been reported to me, and many state if it was $10 per bottle they would not be without it. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throats, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Spasms, Old Sores, and Pains in the Back and Chest. No one tries it who is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full Directions with every bottle. Sold by the Druggists. Depot, 56 Cortland Street, New York.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Where this article is known it is a work of supererogation to say one word in its favor, so well is it established as an unfailing remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, diseases of the Throat, Chest, and Lungs, as well as that most dreaded of all diseases, Consumption, which high medical authority has pronounced to be a curable disease. Those who have used this remedy know its value; those who have not, have but to make a single trial to be satisfied that of all others it is the remedy.

THE REV. JACOB SECHLER, well known and much respected among the German population of this country, writes as follows:—

HANOVER, PA., Feb. 16, 1859.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & SON, Boston.

Dear Sirs—Having realized in my family important benefits from the use of your valuable preparation—WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY—it affords me pleasure to recommend it to the public. Some eight years ago, one of my daughters seemed to be in a decline, and little hopes of her recovery were entertained. I then procured a bottle of your excellent Balsam, and before she had taken the whole of it there was a great improvement in her health. I have, in my individual case, made frequent use of your valuable medicine, and have always been benefited by it. I would, however, caution the public against imposition, because there is a good deal of spurious Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry afloat throughout the country. JACOB SECHLER.

None genuine unless signed "I. BUTTS" on the wrapper.

Prepared by SETH W. FOWLE & SON, 18 Tremont St., Boston, and for sale by Druggists generally.

CHRONIC DISEASE, SCROFULA, ULCERS, &C.

It is well known that the benefits derived from drinking of the CONGRESS, SARATOGA and other celebrated Springs is principally owing to the Iodine they contain.

DR. H. ANDERS' IODINE WATER

contains Iodine in the same pure state that it is found in these spring waters, but over 500 per cent, more in quantity, containing as it does 1¼ grains to each fluid ounce, dissolved in pure water, without a solvent, a discovery long sought for, in this country and Europe, and is the best remedy in the world for Scrofula, Cancers, Salt Rheum, Ulcers, and all Chronic Diseases. The Gettysburg Compiler.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1868.

For the Gettysburg Compiler.

A WORD ABOUT MAKING ROADS.

Ed. Gettysburg Compiler:—As the time will soon come for making roads, please allow me a small space in your paper, to express an idea for the consideration of all whom it may concern. It is this: As the roads in many places are old and worn down, so that they resemble a canal or large ditch, and in fact drain the entire surrounding country, my idea is to have them slackwatered. This can be easily accomplished by closing up the brakers at each end, so as to connect them with the bank. This will save the water the trouble of running back and forth across the road, as we often see a braker open at one side and the next one at the opposite side. Some of the brakers will have to be raised a little; the most of them are high enough, if they are closed up properly, to float a good sized boat. Don't you see by my plan we would have a grand slackwater navigation instead of the old mud ditches we have to travel? Why we could surpass old Holland all hollow if my plan should be adopted. There is a certain piece of road in our neighborhood that is admirably adapted to experiment on. If I wasn't afraid I would have all the old fogies to fight at once, I would close up the brakers and build a boat right away. It would only be a little revolution in trade and travel. Some of them chuckle like idiots at the smart tricks of Congress to pull a little more wool. I don't want to put the nigger over the white man where he is in the majority, nor make the nigger the white man's equal where he is in the minority. No such a thing. I only want to slackwater a piece of old road.

Yours affectionately, P. P.

A LITTLE MORE CULTIVATING.—We never harrow enough; we never cultivate enough. Too mellow ground cannot be made. The mellower the better. And yet we harrow simply to cover the grain, unless the land is very rough. This is all wrong, wrong. Let the cultivator be used freely, followed by the drag freely. Let them swim through the soil. Some ground needs frequent plowing in addition to the cultivating. You cannot pulverize too much; you cannot pulverize enough. "But there is no time to do all this." True. And here is the great difficulty; we have too much land; our work has got the start of us—and it will keep it always where there is much of it. Better cultivate one acre thoroughly than two in the usual manner—for it will yield as much as two without manure, unless your land is in a very mealy condition, which is rarely the case. Harrow more; cultivate more.—Rural World.

EFFECT OF BONE DUST.—A Westbury (Vt.) subscriber of the New England Farmer thus writes about the effect of bone dust:

I see a great deal in your paper about bone dust or flour. I have thought a great many times I would give you a little of my experience in that matter. In 1844 I lived in the house of an independent farmer, and planted about three-fourths of an acre of corn on a pine plain. That farmer had for many years been gathering all the bones he could find. That spring he carried them to a plaster mill and got them ground. He gave me a peck of the flour, which I put on one-half of my piece of corn. It had a wonderful effect. The stalks grew a foot taller than the other half, and were darker colored, and the ears were from two to four inches longer. The difference through the season was such that passers by often called upon me to know what made the difference. I could only tell them that dry bones did it.

SELECTING A COW.—It is sometimes the case that the best judges will be deceived. A cow of very promising appearance, coarse in the neck, large boned, and second or third-rate milk marks generally, will, now and then, turn out to be first-rate, while another with these marks largely developed, fine in the head and neck, and promising every way, will prove unsatisfactory. But a failure in this case is rare. Let the head be light, the forehead broad, the horn rather thin and clear, the eye clear and prominent, the neck thin, and the fore-quarters rather light, the back straight, the hind quarters well developed, wide over the loins, the carcass deep, the udder coming forward and well shaped, the skin soft to the touch, the teats well set, not too large nor too small, the tail long and thin like a whip-lash. Such a cow ought to be a good one.—Plowman.

APPLE CHOCOLATE.

In a quart of new milk boil a pound of scraped French chocolate, and six ounces of white sugar. Beat the yolks of six eggs, and the whites of two, and, when the chocolate has come to a boil, remove it from the fire, gradually add the eggs, stirring well at the time. Have ready a deep dish, at the bottom of which you have placed a good layer of pluped apples sweetened to taste, and seasoned with powdered cinnamon; pour the chocolate gently over it, and place the dish upon a saucepan of boiling water. When the cream is set firmly it is done. Sift powdered sugar over it, and glaze with a red-hot shovel, if you have nothing better. This preparation is not only very delicious, but exceedingly salutary, on account of the apples being a corrective to the too great richness of the chocolate.

KENTUCKY GINGER PUDDING.—Three cups of molasses, one cup of butter, two teaspoonfuls of saleratus, four eggs, four and a half cups of flour, ginger and nutmeg. Steam or bake. To be eaten with any kind of nice sauce. This pudding will keep any reasonable length of time, and is good either hot or cold.

EFFICACY OF ONIONS.—People are troubled often with severe coughs, the results of colds of long standing, which may turn to consumption or premature death. Hard coughs cause sleepless nights by constant irritation of the throat, and a strong effort to throw off offensive matter from the lungs. The remedy we propose has been tried with good results, which is simply to take into the stomach before retiring for the night, a piece of raw onion, after chewing. This esculent in an uncooked state is very heating, and collects the water from the lungs and throat, causing immediate relief. Let the afflicted try it.

FIVE FOLLIES.—To think that the more a man eats, the fatter and stronger he becomes.

To believe that the more hours children study at school the faster they learn.

To conclude that if exercise is good for the health, the more violent and exhausting it is the more good is done.

To imagine that every hour taken from sleep is an hour gained.

To act on the presumption that the smallest room in the house is large enough to sleep in.

LUMBER, COAL,

STOVES, TIN-WARE, &C.

Corner of Carlisle Street and the Railroad,

GETTYSBURG, PA.

AN IMMENSE STOCK!

IN order to give the public something like an adequate idea of the immense stock of Lumber, Coal, Stoves, Tin-ware, &c., &c., on hand and for sale by the undersigned, at his establishment, in Carlisle street, across the Railroad from the Passenger Station, he would enumerate as far as the limits of a newspaper advertisement will allow:

IN THE LUMBER LINE:

Boards and Plank of every grade, from cullings to panel, Joists and Scantling, pine and hemlock, Siding, planed and unplaned, Flooring, Shingles, Shingle Laths, Plastering Laths, Pickets, ready-made Doors and Sash, Blinds and Shutters,—in fact, everything used for building purposes.

IN THE COAL LINE:

Shamokin White Ash and Lykens' Valley Red Ash, these two varieties being the purest and best for all domestic purposes. Also the very best Broad-top and Allegheny Smith Coal.

IN THE STOVE LINE:

Waverly, Noble Cook, Royal Cook, Barley Sheaf, Oriental, Stewart's Cook, Ornamental, Excelsior, Prince Royal and the Emerald Cooking Stoves, all for coal or wood. These varieties are a selection from the best and most popular Cooking Stoves the market affords, and are all warranted to give entire satisfaction. Also, a very large variety of Parlor, Saloon and Shop Stoves, for coal or wood, including the celebrated Morning Glory, the Vulcan, Oval Meteor, Round Meteor, Dial, Violet, Gem, Regulator, Comet, Egg, New Egg, Parlor Cook, &c., &c. Fire Brick and Grates, for coal or wood, always on hand.

IN THE TIN-WARE LINE:

The assortment embraces everything necessary for kitchen or household purposes, including a large number of convenient yet cheap articles of new design which must be seen to be appreciated. The stock is so large and varied that those who have not visited the establishment have no conception of its extent. In addition to the ordinary kitchen utensils, it includes Bathing Vessels, Toilet Chamber Sets, plain and fancy, Chamber Buckets, Bread and Spice Boxes, Tea and Coffee Canisters, Deed Boxes, Spittoons, Tumbler Drainers, Bill-head Boxes, Waiters, Ale Carriers, Water Coolers, Slaw Cutters, Nurse Lamps, Jelly Moulds, Pudding Moulds, Patent Nutmeg Graters, Comb Cases, Gen. Grant Plates and A B C Plates, Ash Buckets, Flour Sieves, Bird Cages, Spout Heads, Coffee Mills, Lanterns, Basting Spoons, Large Forks, Candle Sticks, Candle Moulds, Copper Dippers, Wrought-iron Frying Pans, Smoothing Irons, Foot Scrapers, Coffee Roasters, Waffle Irons, Snuffers, Dinner and Auctioneer Bells, Egg Beaters, Oilers, Fluted Funnels, Cool Sieves, Glass-top Fruit Cans, Plain-top Fruit Cans, Self-sealing Jars, &c., &c. Tin-ware made to order, and repairing promptly attended to, by the best of workmen.

IN THE HOLLOW-WARE LINE:

Cast-iron Pots, of every size and variety, for stoves, Porcelain Kettles, for cooking and preserving, Tin-lined Kettles for ditto, Cast-iron Stew Pans, of every size and variety, Porcelain and tinned, with a thousand and one other articles impossible to enumerate in an advertisement.

Attention is specially directed to three valuable patents for which he is agent, and about which there is no humbug, as can be attested by scores who have used them, viz: THE UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER, DOTY'S WASHING MACHINE, and the celebrated DIAMOND CHURN.

The public are invited to call and examine goods and prices. He guarantees to sell everything in his line at exceeding low figures. Come and see, to gratify your curiosity, if you do not want to buy. No trouble to show goods.

KISSINGER & SHIREMAN,

AGENTS AND DEALERS IN

PIANOS & CABINET ORGANS, MELODEONS, AND ALL KINDS OF MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,

respectfully inform the public that they are prepared to furnish Pianos of the following manufacture or of any other make that may be preferred:

Albright, Reikes & Schmidt,
Chickering & Son, Bradbury,
Knabe & Son, Gale & Son,

ESTEY'S CELEBRATED

COTTAGE, HARMONIC AND BOUDOIR ORGANS AND MELODEONS.

These Instruments stand unrivalled by any thing found in this country or in Europe, as is admitted by all impartial judges. The most eminent Pipe Organ Builders and Performers, the last to discover excellence in reed Tone, pronounced them vastly superior to all others for exceedingly quick articulation and round Tone, the essential feature in instruments of this class. We invite the severe scrutiny and criticism of all.

PATENT VOX HUMANA TREMOLO.

This late and most wonderful invention (so acknowledged by all leading artists) will be found only in the Estey Instruments. In attempting to describe the effect of this stop, we are at loss for language. Its beauties cannot be written, but must be heard to be appreciated. By this stop an ordinary performer can produce an effect which requires a life time of practice for an artist upon a violin. It entirely changes the reed Tone, giving the sympathetic sweetness of the human voice, making it so melodious and pure that it never fails to enchant the listener.

THE HARMONIC ORGAN

for Churches, Public Halls and Parlors has a powerful sub-Bass with independent reeds, Harmonic attachment and Vox Humana Tremolo, and is believed to be the most powerful reed organ made, being nearly equal to a Pipe Organ of three times the cost.

All instruments warranted for five years.

☞BRASS BANDS supplied with instruments and music at reasonable terms.

A liberal discount allowed for Churches and Sabbath Schools.

☞Instructions given both in Vocal and Instrumental Music, at our rooms, and at pupils' homes, either to individuals or classes, on reasonable terms.

SEWING MACHINES.

The Grover & Baker.—The Best in Use.

THESE Machines have become so well known that little need be said by way of recommendation. They have taken the first premium at all the late State Fairs, and are universally acknowledged to be the BEST in use by all who have tried them. The "Grover & Baker Stitch" and the "Shuttle Stitch" are points that have been attained by no other Machine. They are the only machines that sew and embroider with perfection. These Machines are peculiarly adapted to Family use. They are noiseless, sew directly from the spool without rewinding, and are simple in their construction. They are easy to manage, and can be worked by almost any child. Every family should have one. They save labor, they save time, and they save money, and do their work better than it can be done by hand.

The undersigned having been appointed Agent for the above Machines, has established an Agency in Fairfield, Adams county, where he will always have on hand a supply. Persons wishing to buy will please call and examine for themselves.

I have tested these Drops in my own practice, over ten years, and do not hesitate to say, that nothing has yet been developed by medical research, that acts so powerfully, positively and harmlessly, in cases of female irregularity, as does this medicine. In all recent cases it never fails, while thousands who have been long sufferers, are indebted to it for the boon of health to-day.

Although so powerful and positive, they are perfectly harmless, and may be used at all times, except when specially forbidden in the directions.

They have been extensively employed by eminent physicians in France and England, as well as in my own practice, over ten years, and I have yet to hear of the first instance of failure. I could give you testimonials of their efficacy from all over the northern and western States, were they not in their nature private. Over 100,000 bottles have been sold the past year, and I hope and trust as many sufferers have been benefitted. I am well aware that a remedy so potent to remove all obstructions, may be used for a bad purpose, but trust that where one bottle is thus used, ten may fall into the hands of really needy sufferers.

To all who suffer from any irregularity; painful, difficult, excessive, offensive or obstructed Menstruation, Leucorrhea, or the train of diseases that follow, I would say, try a bottle of Dr. Lyon's FRENCH PERIODICAL DROPS. Being a fluid preparation, their action is more direct and positive than any pills or powders. Explicit directions, bearing my fac simile, accompany each bottle.

They may be obtained of nearly every druggist in the country, or by enclosing the price to C. G. CLARK & CO., New Haven, Conn., General Agents for the United States and Canada.

A Lecture to Young Men.

JUST published, in a sealed envelope. Price 6 cents.

A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment, and Radical Cure of Seminal Weakness, or Spermatorrhœa, induced by Self-Abuse; Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, etc.—By ROBERT J. CULVERWELL, M. D., Author of the "Green Book," etc.

The world-renowned Author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves, from his own experience, that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without medicine, and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings, or cordials—pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

Sent, under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, on receipt of 6 cents, or two postage stamps, by addressing the publishers.

Also, DR. CULVERWELL'S "Marriage Guide," price 25 cents.
